WELBECK TILES®

Made in England

Vintage Revival

Our true love of treasures from the past has given life to ‘the’ tiles of today.

A wonderful 1950's cookery book was the inspiration for the 'Jellies' range.

Welcome

Welcome to our new catalogue, which celebrates the tenth birthday of Welbeck Tiles. Over the past ten years we have been committed to producing the most exquisite hand-crafted tiles in the most romantic setting. We are tucked away on the historic Welbeck Estate in the heart of Nottinghamshire, made famous by the fifth duke of Portland for its mysterious maze of underground tunnels. This unique haven certainly helps to create part of the inspiration needed to design these truly original wall tiles.

Our tiles are made from start to finish at using English materials of the finest quality, but it is the designs that make them so special. Brenda Bates, founder of Welbeck Tiles, is an experienced designer with great flair and imagination for producing refreshing images that are unique, unusual and desirable.

Welbeck Tiles allows you to create an environment which is both beautiful and quite simply, “A Work of Art”.

Collections

English 10

Traditional designs with timeless appeal, the English Collection will complement interiors of today and yesterday.

Coast 27

Inspired by the beauty of the ocean and childhood holiday memories, the Coast Collection is an unforgettable range of tiles.

Platinum 34

From modern geometric designs to exquisite botanical illustrations, the Platinum Collection is a truly stunning range.

Rose 40

A beautiful collection of English Roses, captured on tiles to keep the essence of summer in your home all year long.

Hand Crafted

All our tiles are made in the traditional time honoured way - where quality comes before quantity.

Here the thickness of the glaze is being carefully measured.

A work of art

Producing tiles of this quality takes time, patience and skill, with many stages from the raw clay to the finished tile.

The tiles are first pressed from raw clay into the shapes we require, these are left to dry. The first firing changes them from grey clay to a creamy white matt bisque tile. A glaze is then applied, and the tiles are re-fired to give a wonderful glossy crackle finish.

The tiles are then ready to decorate, and this is when the magic really begins to happen. A myriad of techniques applied by hand are used, and some tiles will be fired for up to three more times before their full beauty is revealed.

Be Inspired

Choose to stand out

Welbeck Tiles will definitely make a design statement in your home, whether your kitchen is traditional or contemporary, our designs are sure to enhance your home. The design possibilities of our tiles are endless. Many more ideas can be viewed on our website, or we can help you create your own unique look using Welbeck Tiles.

Base Tiles

Beautiful in their own right, our base tiles are the building blocks for all of our designs.

Here, dado tiles are drying before they have their first bisque firing in our kilns.

Welbeck Words

One of our first and most popular designs that are instantly recognized as Welbeck Tiles. What a storm these tiles have created! You name it, we have been asked to make it - from champagne names to puddings, tea and coffee to proverbs. But it is the English herb names that are requested the most. You can have them made into a panel with a border of any size, or just use them scattered amongst our plain brick tiles. The quarter tiles look wonderful as spacers between the words.

Panels

Our classic word tile panels can be made to fit any space. These are just examples of our most popular ones; but the sky really is the limit as to what you can create. Usually, we surround these panels with a few rows of plain brick tiles on all sides. Let us know your requirements and we can design a unique panel just for you.

Beautiful botanical illustrations can be used singularly or in a row.

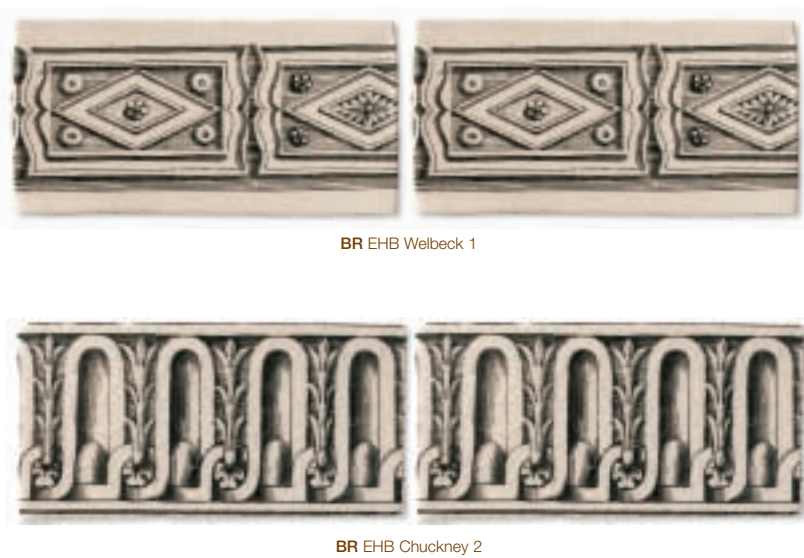

Dado Tiles Borders

Moulded border tiles, for use with any of the tiles in the English Collection. Dado borders are also available as a half tile (see Page 9).

Half-Tile Borders

Bold patterns on our brick tiles look decorative as a border with our base tiles. Mitred corners are also available.

Acanthus Border

Acanthus leaf border tile on or square base tile.

Brick-Edging Tile Borders

Less raised than our dado tile, our brick edging tiles are used most to frame our wall panels. Brick edging borders are also available as a half tile (see Page 9).

Vibrant colourful designs and vintage holiday mementos, from a bygone era are what give the Coast Collection its charm. Inspired by the beauty and mystery of the ocean, and wonderful memories of seaside holidays, the Coast Collection forms a truly breathtaking and unforgettable range of tiles.

Postcards

Our brand new range of tiles. We have had such fun collecting and transforming old postcards onto tiles. We have just designed a wonderful bathroom in Cornwall, with a whole wall full of postcard tiles, and interspersed with word tiles such as 'Bucket and Spade', 'Ice Cream', and 'Donkey Rides'. The tiles are also lovely just as objects on a mantelpiece: we have lots more things planned to add to this range for the future.

Design Service

The different ways that Welbeck Tiles can be used are limitless, which is why our free design service is invaluable. We would be pleased to offer suggestions for tiling schemes tailored to your particular space. We would also be happy to provide you with a drawing, quotation and calculation of tile quantities. Simply supply us with the measurements of the area you wish to be tiled, and we will do the rest.

Product Characteristics

Shade, glaze, and crackle variation will occur due to the inherent characteristics of handmade tiles made from natural clay which adds to the tiles' individuality.
